OSCAR PETERSON:

MUSIC IN THE KEY OF OSCAR

With: Ella Fitzgerald, Dizzy Gillespie, Quincy Jones, Norman Granz and more

"The story of a man dedicated to honoring his father's credo to strive for greatness. A true jazz event." –Billboard

"...A jazz lover's treat..." –Denver International Film Festival

"...Anyone who admires Oscar Peterson will thoroughly enjoy this DVD..." –Cadence

This riveting music documentary traces the history of piano legend Oscar Peterson, from his early days as Montreal's teenage boogie-woogie sensation through his meteoric rise to international celebrity. One highlight in this treasure trove of musical gems is the legendary Oscar Peterson Trio (bassist Ray Brown and guitarist Herb Ellis) who after a twenty-year hiatus, reunited in order to "prove that it still had the magic."

Over 100 minutes of classic and contemporary performances, rare film footage, in-depth interviews with a cast of jazz legends and multiple Bonus Features, create a chronicle spanning five decades of Oscar Peterson's unforgettable music.

106 Minutes plus multiple Bonus Features

OSCAR PETERSON'S WORDS OF PASSION

Excerpts from Jazz Odyssey: My Life in Jazz
By Oscar Peterson with Richard Palmer

On Talent:

There is no place in the world of true creativity for pettiness and shallow thoughts. Talent sustains itself simply by its need for growth and refinement, coupled with an unbiased curiosity to find out who is best of the best.

On Jazz:

....the immensity of the music we know as jazz. To go out there every night and lay oneself open to possible frustration, personal and mental upheaval, is in my mind an act of musical courage. Even beyond that, it is a belief in one's depth as a player of consequence.
